Neil Toft – Expert Consultant in Plastic, Hand & Skin Surgery

Dr. Neil Toft is an experienced consultant plastic and hand surgeon located in London, practicing at some of the best plastic surgery clinic in the city. He specializes in the advanced treatment of hand conditions, as well as both benign and malignant skin lesions, cosmetic procedures, and skin cancer treatment. With more than twenty years of practice and leadership in the Hand Trauma Service, Dr. Toft provides exceptional patient care in both NHS and private practices.

Committed to restoring both form and function, Dr. Toft expertly addresses a variety of conditions, including carpal tunnel syndrome, trigger finger, and fractures of the fingers and metacarpals, as well as performing trapeziectomy for thumb osteoarthritis. Additionally, he offers specialized surgical services for benign skin lesions, such as sebaceous cysts, lipomas, and skin tags, along with expert diagnosis and removal of malignant skin cancers. His expertise in skin cancer treatment ensures patients receive accurate diagnoses and advanced surgical care with optimal outcomes.

Dr. Toft works in established NHS facilities such as the Royal Free Hospital in Hampstead and Mount Vernon Hospital in Northwood. Additionally, he operates private clinics at several well-regarded London hospitals, including Bishopswood Hospital (Northwood), The Clementine Churchill Hospital (Harrow), and the Hospital of St John & St Elizabeth (St John's Wood) ,all recognized for excellence as part of a plastic surgery clinic network.

About Dr. Neil Toft

Dr. Neil Toft obtained his medical degrees and advanced surgical training from the Universities of Edinburgh and Newcastle, eventually achieving a distinguished fellowship in pediatric hand surgery at Great Ormond Street Hospital. He has served as a consultant plastic and hand surgeon since 2006, the same year he joined the GMC's specialist register.

Dr. Toft is a distinguished member of several prestigious professional organizations, including the British Association of Plastic, Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgeons (BAPRAS), the British Association of Aesthetic Plastic Surgeons (BAAPS), and the British Society for Surgery of the Hand (BSSH). His continuous dedication to achieving clinical excellence has positioned his practice as one of the best plastic surgery clinics for comprehensive reconstructive and cosmetic care.

Why Choose Dr. Neil Toft?

By selecting Dr. Neil Toft, patients gain:

- Specialized Knowledge – With more than 20 years of clinical experience and thousands of surgeries conducted, Dr. Toft stands as a reliable authority in hand, skin, reconstructive, and skin cancer treatment.

- Extensive Training—His fellowship in pediatric hand surgery and comprehensive training across major UK centres reflect top-tier professional development.

- Wide-Ranging Services— From hand trauma and arthritis surgery to benign and malignant skin lesion removal, Dr. Toft delivers personalized treatment plans tailored to each patient's needs, all within a trusted plastic surgery clinic environment.

- Trusted Institutions – Serving both NHS and private patients, he practices at respected London hospitals with access to advanced facilities.

Benefits of Dr. Toft's Care

- Functional Restoration – Surgical solutions like fracture repair, nerve decompression, and trapeziectomy enhance mobility, relieve pain, and improve daily functionality.

- Cosmetic Results – Skin lesion removal and skin cancer treatment are performed with precision to ensure minimal scarring and optimal aesthetic outcomes.

- Holistic Care—From diagnosis through postoperative recovery, care is comprehensive and patient-centered. Focused on preventing infection, safeguarding confidentiality, and delivering personalized treatment.

- Patient Confidence – Dr. Toft's rich professional credentials and memberships provide assurance of quality, ethical, and effective care at one of the best plastic surgery clinics in London.

Conclusion

Dr. Neil Toft represents the gold standard in plastic, hand, and dermatologic surgery in London. His extensive experience, specialized training, and compassionate approach make him a go-to consultant for patients seeking advanced treatment for hand disorders, benign and malignant skin lesions, and aesthetic concerns. Whether through the NHS or at a leading plastic surgery clinic, his patients receive individualized care backed by years of proven expertise. For precision, trustworthiness, and exceptional surgical outcomes, from complex hand surgery to skin cancer treatment, Dr. Toft's practice stands among the best plastic surgery clinics in London.